THE TEACHING AND LEARNING EXPERIENCE

GETTING THE MOST OUT OF YOUR LEARNING EXPERIENCE

Congratulations for making the decision to learn new skills and recognise the need for your own development in order to further your skills and knowledge. The handbook is designed as an informational document to introduce you to our company and our learner policies and does not constitute or reflect a contract.

As with any programme, you will get out of it what you put into it. So, if you want to get the most out of it, you should do some preparation.

Here are some quick tips to ensure you get the most out of a training programme:

Have a clear idea of what you would like to get from it – Take a look at the programme overview and objectives and be sure that the programme is the right one for you. Think about how the content fits with your personal development plan and your other objectives. Then, write down some objectives for the programme. We will ask you at the beginning of the programme what you are looking to get from your time with us.

Ask Questions – Don't be afraid to ask questions during the programme. Your Tutor(s) will be happy to answer any questions and may also open them up as a discussion to other group members. Discussion among the group provides an opportunity to bring different perspectives and opinions into the mix that enhance the learning experience.

Participation – our programmes are designed to be interactive, meaning the Tutor(s) would like you to be involved. They may ask questions or set small tasks for you and your classmates to take part in. The only way to get the best from this is to actively get involved. Also, take time to get to know your fellow classmates.

Reflect – An important part of your coaching journey, we encourage reflective practice. It is an important part of the process of change as you consider how to apply what you learn in your everyday personal and work life.

Use the Learning – Don't put the programme materials in a drawer and leave them there. If this happens then the learning goes with it. Instead, we encourage you to regularly review the content provided both in your manual and through the E-learning site and consider ways to put what you've learned into practice.

QQI (QUALITY & QUALIFICATIONS IRELAND)

The Professional Diploma program offered by Kingstown College is certified at a LEVEL 6 on the national framework by QQI. QQI (Quality and Qualifications Ireland) is an independent State agency established by the Quality Assurance and Qualifications (Education and Training) Act 2012 with a board appointed by the Minister for Education and Skills. Its functions include those previously carried out by the Further Education and Training Awards Council (FETAC); the Higher Education and Training Awards Council (HETAC); the Irish Universities Quality Board (IUQB) and the National Qualifications Authority of Ireland (NQAI).

QQI's role is to:

- Promote, maintain and develop the Irish National Framework of Qualifications (NFQ) the 10-level framework for the development, recognition and awarding of qualifications in Ireland
- Review the effectiveness of quality assurance procedures of further and higher education providers for programmes leading to qualifications in the NFQ. Quality assurance means that both your education or training programme and the education provider (Kingstown College Training Ltd) are reviewed on a regular basis
- Validate education and training programmes and make awards for providers in the further education and training and higher education sectors
- Provide advice on the recognition of Irish qualifications abroad and the recognition of foreign qualifications in Ireland

THE NATIONAL FRAMEWORK OF QUALIFICATIONS

The National Framework of Qualifications (NFQ) is a 10-level system (1–10) giving an academic or vocational value to qualifications obtained in Ireland. NFQ levels help indicate how an award can be used for training, education and employment opportunities (see fan diagram above). Each level is based on nationally agreed standards of what a learner is expected to know and be able to do after receiving an award. NFQ serves several purposes.

- It ensures awards obtained in Ireland are quality-assured and recognised internationally
- It is part of a system for comparing Irish and international awards
- It supports lifelong learning by recognising knowledge and skills within a comparative framework, even if they are not recognised by a formal award
- It provides a system of establishing eligibility in learning processes for access, transfer and progression
- It recognises awards made by professional bodies

AN INTERNATIONAL QUALIFICATION

NFQ is linked to similar frameworks in Europe. This helps people considering employment or study opportunities outside Ireland. There are two qualifications frameworks at European level:

- The Framework for Qualifications of the European Higher Education Area also known as the 'Bologna Framework'. This deals with higher education awards (NFQ 6-10).
- The European Qualifications Framework (EQF), which deals with all NFQ levels including schools, Further Education and Training, and Higher Education.

QUALIFICATIONS RECOGNITION SERVICE

QQI offers a free Qualifications Recognition Advice Service for those seeking guidance on the academic recognition of awards obtained outside the Irish system.

MISPLACED QQI CERTIFICATE

QQI will not re-issue certificates but can issue an official record of awards (transcript) of all Further Education Training (FET) awards achieved by a learner to date. All details relating to ordering a record of awards (application form, payment details etc) are available from:

<https://qhelp.qqi.ie/learners/>

ADMISSIONS

The minimum entry admission requirements for each individual programme are set out by the Programme Design team and are detailed in the Programme Descriptor (KC-QA3-3000) which is approved by the Academic Committee. These requirements may include (but not limited to):

- Academic Qualifications
- Professional Qualifications
- Accreditation
- Experience

REASONABLE ACCOMMODATIONS

Kingstown College provides Reasonable Accommodations to enable learners with specific learning needs to demonstrate their level of attainment in assessments. The grounds on which applications can be made include but are not limited to, the following:

- Learning Difficulty
- Hearing Difficulty
- Visual Difficulty
- Physical Difficulty
- Mental Health or Behavioural Difficulty

Learners are advised to inform Kingstown College of any requests for accommodations immediately after registration to ensure that appropriate resources can be put in place for them. Kingstown College will make every effort to try and accommodate the learner's request.

RECOGNITION OF PRIOR LEARNING

Kingstown College is committed to facilitating access and progression of learners by recognising prior knowledge, skills and competence of an individual learner howsoever acquired, where appropriate.

Kingstown College has arrangements in place to facilitate learners who wish to gain entry to a programme on the basis of prior learning experiences. A learner may seek entry to a programme where he/she does not meet the standard entry criteria on the basis of prior learning. All applications are considered on a case-by-case basis and applicants are interviewed by the Academic Director. An applicant must be able to demonstrate that he/she has the capacity to successfully complete the programme.

In the event that a learner or a group of learners expresses a wish to enter a programme based on prior learning experiences, he/she should contact the College by email at support@kingstowncollege.ie and we will assist him/her with the necessary requirements.

The Academic Director is responsible for management of the recognition of prior learning. Kingstown's procedures and recognition of prior learning for entry to programmes is approved by QQI at the point of programme validation within the context of our agreed quality assurance policy. Details are set out in the Validation Manual/Programme Descriptor (KC-QA3-3000).

INDUCTION GUIDELINES FOR STUDENTS

Induction Webinars follow a clear structure. First, they teach students what they need to know about their course and how to navigate the Moodle e-learning site. Secondly how to upload their assessments onto the e-learning site and how to receive their feedback on their assignments. They are an important support for our blended learning programmes.

In order to create a healthy online learning context for everyone the following group rules have been decided upon for all online programs.

- Everyone's opinions should be respected.
- Everyone should be given the chance to have their own word and the group should wait and support students who are struggling.
- There should be an open section for student led contributions each week.
- Tutors are responsible for providing clarity during webinars.
- Students are responsible for muting themselves if they are working in a noisy environment. Webinars challenge students to move from a place of not knowing how to complete a task to learning the skills they need to complete the assessment tasks. This requires focus, attention, concentration and self-regulation. Background noise interferes with student ability to focus, to pay attention, to concentrate and to self-regulate.

Students are encouraged to use the chat-box facility during the webinar sessions and students' attendance at the webinars is recorded on the College VERI system.

Students are expected to attend 70% of all classes including webinars.

IN-HOUSE TRAINING DAYS

- Some of the QQI programmes delivered by Kingstown College require in-house training days.
- A schedule of these in-house training days is available from the College Administrator, where relevant.
- A record of learner's attendance for the in-house training day will be retained by Kingstown College using the VERI system.

Kingstown College offer course support on all their programmes. There is a self-directed learning element to the programme which is supported by our student support.

EMAIL SUPPORT

The College provide email support to all Learners.

PHONE SUPPORT

The College provide phone support to all Learners.

ONE-TO-ONE MENTORING SESSIONS

Kingstown College can arrange one-to-one mentoring session(s) on request, either by phone or Zoom call. The procedure for requesting a one to one mentoring session with a tutor is:

- The learner is required to email their tutor requesting a date and time for a one-to-one mentoring session.
- The tutor will respond with a recommended date and time.
- The learner must confirm the time and date with the tutor. If not confirmed by the learner, the tutor will not be available.
- One-to-one mentoring sessions must be scheduled in advance. No unscheduled one-to-one mentoring sessions will be accommodated.

FACILITATING DIVERSITY

Kingstown is committed to equality of access and attainment among learners and proactively seeks to promote equality and facilitate diversity. One of the College's stated values is Respect: We recognize the diversity of identities and experiences and treat each person with honesty, dignity, fairness, accountability, and integrity. We aim to provide training which is accessible to all learners including those individuals with additional or diverse needs and other non-standard applicants insofar as this is possible and practicable.

Ideally, we identify the diverse needs of learners at the application stage but also encourage learners to approach their tutor or other staff member at any point of a programme if they wish to highlight a specific need. We consider each request on a case-by-case basis. While we make every effort to accommodate special needs and non-standard learners, we can only respond to requests that are reasonable and practicable and applicants must meet minimum entry requirements for the programme.

Key Steps

- We have an Equality and Diversity Policy which clearly sets out the Kingstown's commitment to facilitating diversity and difference
- We provide equality and diversity training as part of staff induction and on an ongoing basis to ensure staff are aware of equality and diversity issues and have the capacity to accommodate diversity.
- Equality and diversity is addressed in the Learner and Tutor handbooks and at induction.
- We provide information on the range of supports available to learners and how they can be accessed at Induction and on Moodle
- The tutors ask learners at programme commencement if they have any additional support needs.
- The programme design teams bear in mind the needs of all the potential participants when designing training sessions and training materials
- We provide pre-entry information about the content, assessment and demands of each programme to help applicants make an informed choice about participation.
- There is a question on our programme application form asking applicants if they have any additional support needs. In addition, learners can disclose any additional support needs at any point during the programme.
- The applicant is responsible for requesting reasonable accommodation and for providing documentation that verifies and confirms their need.
- Individual learners' needs are reviewed and identified at the start of the programme and appropriate resources and/or strategies provided to respond to those needs effectively.
- Examples of supports that Kingstown can make available to learners (this list is not exhaustive and any learner requesting support will be accommodated within reason to the best of our ability)
 - Physical modifications to the training location e.g. seating arrangements etc.
 - Learning materials provided in accessible format where possible.
 - Additional time to complete assessments.

The Internal Verifier informs the External Authenticator and the Results Approval Panel if reasonable accommodation for assessment has been provided for a learner.

EQUALITY & DIVERSITY POLICY

Kingstown College is committed to delivering programmes of education and training and related services in a manner that accommodates diversity, combats discrimination and promotes equality of opportunity. Kingstown College combats discrimination on nine grounds and in accordance with The Equality Act 2004. The nine grounds are:

LEARNER COMPLAINTS

We welcome comments, suggestions and complaints about our performance and regard complaints as opportunities to review programmes, practice, procedures and identify areas for improvement. Complaints may come from learners, staff, trainers, employers, awarding bodies, statutory agencies and the general public. The College recognises and upholds learners' right to make a complaint in the event that they feel they have been mistreated or disadvantaged in any way. We take all valid complaints seriously and strive to achieve speedy, equitable, timely and courteous solutions doing everything we can to resolve complaints informally and at the earliest possible opportunity. If this is not possible, a formal complaint can be made through our Complaints Procedure (KCP-QA5-2000). All complaints are reviewed in a fair and consistent manner and resolved to the complainant's satisfaction, insofar as this is possible.

If you do not receive the email within 48 hours please email us at info@kingstowncollege.ie and our Programme Coordinator will ensure the details are resent. Before doing so, please check to ensure it has not gone into your spam/junk folder. If our email is there, make sure to add us to your safe senders' list so you don't miss any future correspondence from us.

KINGSTOWN'S E-LEARNING SITE

Our e-coaching site provides access to all programme materials as well as supplementary resources such as videos and questionnaires.

PROGRAMME DELIVERY

The design structure utilised by Kingstown College is based on Kolb's Learning Cycle. All programmes will:

- allow for group discussions, feedback, case studies and/or homework. Programmes of 3 months plus duration will also involve simulations and experiential learning.
- incorporate opportunities for reflective learning which allow the learners the opportunity to question the information received and compare and contrast differing viewpoints.
- encompass an element of theory in a lecture based format. Appropriate case studies and readings will be recommended and/or discussed during the programme. Where feasible, subject experts will be invited to participate in the programmes.
- include activities to allow learner practice and develop their skills. This may take the form of simulations or learning exercises.

BLENDED LEARNING

To ensure a quality experience and deliver on our commitments to learners, our online coaching programmes provide access to support, resource materials and demonstration videos. Our commitment is to deliver:

- Flexibility - online students determine their study time themselves as the programme is flexible enough to allow learners to set their own study pace.
- Communication and access to College - we use the latest technologies (eg. Zoom) and where possible face-to-face meetings to help learners stay in touch with the College. We make contact with them as soon as possible after registration, to set up an introductory meeting where questions and issues around programme material/ coaching tools/ coaching practice are discussed. These online sessions are scheduled regularly with the Tutor to ensure learners have access to support and practical guidance around the programme material and their coaching practice.
- Student Support - each learner has their own Support Tutor who will stay in touch via Zoom or phone calls.
- Programme Material - programme content is the same as for face-to-face learners. They have access to comprehensive and detailed programme material as soon as they are registered on the e-coaching site (utilising a Moodle Platform)
- Assessments - Support Tutors liaise with learners to help ensure they are able to complete assignments.
- Coaching Practice - online learners are required, like the other learners, to practice their coaching tools in real life – their Tutor will assist them with the organisation and logistics regarding this part of the programme requirement.
- Effective use of E-learning tools – our range of E-learning tools ensure multi-faceted learning through: instructional coaching videos and online quizzes, specific coaching tools and resource materials (i.e. PowerPoint presentations), access to a worldwide collegiate body encouraging collaborative learning amongst coaches across the world and since e-learning assessments are self-paced learners can present their assessments at their own pace whilst guided by the deadlines laid out in the programme.

LEARNER CONDUCT GUIDELINES

WHAT TO WEAR / APPROPRIATE DRESS

Although Kingstown College does not dictate a dress code, most learners adhere to business casual attire.

MOBILE PHONES IN CLASS

Your mobile phone can be a distraction to you and others in the room therefore always ensure that your mobile phone is turned off or in silent mode with vibration turned off.

As a courtesy to your Tutor and classmates, we also ask that learners refrain from taking or making calls until break times and that calls are made outside the training room. (Exception is in the case of an emergency.)

LATENESS

In order to provide learners with the most comprehensive training during their time with us, Tutors have a lesson plan of what needs to be covered and lateness can infringe on the time required to do so. As a courtesy to your Tutor and other learners, we ask learners to leave themselves ample time to arrive at their programme venues on time. We also request that time keeping is respected in relation to returning from breaks and lunches.

ATTENDANCE POLICY

In the unfortunate event that a learner is sick and unable to attend their programme training, it is important that either their Tutor or Kingstown College is notified. We will work with learners to ensure they can make up any study missed and learners should contact their Tutor or our Learner Support team to make any necessary arrangements. All learners must complete 80% of the module training to receive recognition and accreditation. The detailed Attendance Policy is available under Appendix C

LITERACY AND NUMERACY

If you have any concerns regarding your literacy and numeracy skills, please ensure that you discuss these with your Tutor or at enrolment. Where possible, we will make every effort to ensure that your needs and requirements are supported through out your training.

- Readings/Reviews/Coaching Logs
- Assessed Simulations (Learning Review and Observed Coaching Session)
- Field work (External Coaching Practice)
- Essays

Your programme could be graded with on any combination of the above. Your Tutor will advise you of the method of assessment on the first day of your programme.

GUIDELINES FOR COMPLETING ASSIGNMENTS

Guidelines for completing assignments are sent to learners before they begin the programme. The guidelines for completing assignments are also available on the E-learning portal (www.ecoaching.ie). Tutors review these requirements with learners as part of the first day's agenda.

SUBMITTING YOUR ASSIGNMENTS

Your Tutor will provide you with information on how to submit your assignments and the date which the assignment must be received.

All assignments are submitted by either completing them through your E-learning portal (www.ecoaching.ie), such as reflective logs, questionnaires, or by uploading them through the portal, in the case of book and journal reviews. Should you encounter any issues with the E-learning portal, you may contact our Learner Support team.

In instances where you must submit your assignment via email, please ensure that you have the correct email address. Please include the following information in the email: your full name, confirmation of the programme location and programme start date.

LATE ASSIGNMENT SUBMISSIONS

Learners must adhere to deadlines set for submission of their assignments. Should a situation arise where a learner cannot submit their assignment by the deadline date, an extension may be granted at the discretion of Kingstown College. The learner should contact the College in advance of the deadline date with the following information:

- State the reason for your request
- State which assignment(s) will be delayed and the expected date(s) of submission

Please note that learners have to adhere to the decision of the Results Approval Panel.

Where a learner fails to submit their assignments within the agreed upon timeframe, it will be assumed that they have withdrawn from the process. These learners may reapply to Kingstown College in writing to have their assignments submitted with another group; however, learners who choose this option may be required to attend part of another programme to ensure that all learning outcomes have been achieved.

APPEAL ON GRADING

To ensure that the Learner has a fair chance of looking at their assessment, we have in place the Appeals Process.

- A Learner can appeal a result once declared within 2 weeks of the same being uploaded.
- Changes will be made only if the change in marks is 5 or more than 5 and results in a change in grade boundaries. To ensure fairness, the assignments will be sent to a different assessor and the final decision will rest with the Academic Director.

A request to appeal a grade can be submitted via post or email and addressed for the attention of the Academic Director.

THE ASSESSMENT PROCESS

PLANNING ASSESSMENT

Kingstown's assessment briefs, assessment criteria and marking schemes are developed at the programme design stage in accordance with QQI guidelines, award specifications and to suit our learner profile. DEALING WITH PLAGIARISM

Definition

Plagiarism is the presentation of someone else’s ideas, arguments, concepts or work as one’s own by failing to reference or acknowledge it properly.

- We promote a culture which values and supports academic integrity and we have procedures in place to prevent, detect, combat and deter plagiarism.
- We give guidance to tutors and assessors in what constitutes plagiarism, the degrees of plagiarism and on the distinction between acceptable collaboration with others and collusion in plagiarism.
- We make learners aware of the consequences of plagiarism at Induction, in the Learner Handbook (KCP-QA5-1000) and on Moodle

- We make guidelines on how to avoid plagiarism available to learners
- We make tutors and assessors aware of the protocols we have in place for investigating cases where plagiarism is suspected, and the level of evidence required before an accusation can be considered
- We design assessment strategies to minimise the possibility of plagiarism and provide training, guidance and support to programme design teams in the design of assessments instruments so as to minimise the opportunity for plagiarism.
- We use Plagscan plagiarism detection software to help us to immediately identify the percentage of matched text in an assignment. The Plagscan Source Li provides us with an overview of where the content of the assignment matches to. All found matches between assignments and related sources are highlighted on the assignments
- Accepting unwarranted support from others e.g. work colleagues or graduates of our programmes in preparing continuous assessment elements which are submitted as one's own work is a form of plagiarism.

REASONABLE ACCOMMODATION/COMPASSIONATE CONSIDERATION

Kingstown makes reasonable accommodation and compassionate consideration available to cater for learners with individual needs who may otherwise be excluded from demonstrating their achievements of the standards being assessed. The procedure is as follows:

- The learner submits a request to the College based on his/her specific circumstances with proof of the same.
- The learner, the Internal Assessor and the Programme Director may meet to discuss the request.
- The request is granted/modified/rejected based on the outcomes of this interview or on the application.
- The Internal Assessor agrees arrangements and advises the tutor accordingly

The College makes every effort to accommodate learners' needs where possible and where the request is reasonable.

The Course Coordinator maintains a Record of Assisted Learners.

RETURN OF CERTIFICATION DATA

It is the responsibility of the Academic Director to ensure all assessment data is accurate, consistent and reliable prior to submission to QQI for certification purposes. The Chair of the Results Approval Panel signs before they are submitted to the awarding body for certification. The College uses VERI to automatically upload certification data to QQI's QBS system. VERI is GDPR compliant.

Following approval by the Results Approval Panel, the Academic Director and the Internal Verifier double-check all data for certification purposes for accuracy and reliability prior to requesting certification. The Internal Verifier confirms that Kingstown has implemented all elements of the authentication process and adhered to all agreed procedures at the point of requesting certification for learners.

The Internal Verifier then makes results available to learners.

Feedback to Learners

The method of providing feedback to learners is as follows:

- A copy of the feedback is provided to the learner at the end of the course once the learner has submitted all their assignments. This is uploaded on the Moodle site for learners to log in and access.
- Should a learner request further feedback, he/she can contact us and the Internal Assessor will arrange a time to discuss their feedback in more detail. Kingstown will assist learners in their continued development through learner supports provided.

Formative Feedback

Tutors provide learners with appropriate, timely and constructive feedback on assessment which informs their participation on the programme and helps to ensure a successful outcome. Tutors provide formative feedback on a one-to-one basis and/or group basis to learners at various stages throughout the programmes. Feedback helps learners to address areas for development and gaps in their learning and can be used by learners to improve on their summative assignments.

EVALUATION OF PROGRAMMES AND SERVICES

Kingstown College is committed to ensuring that a comprehensive and inclusive evaluation process exists to ensure that all its programmes and additional services are maintained to an excellent standard. Learner input and feedback from learners is an essential part of this procedure and Kingstown College is committed to ensuring that learner input is integrated in all aspects of the process.

ACCIDENT/INCIDENT REPORTING

All incidents, no matter how trivial, and should be reported immediately to the Tutor. This is necessary to monitor the progress of safety standards and to ensure that proper medical attention is given where required and as an aid in the identification of hazards so that the appropriate measures can be taken to prevent the accident from reoccurring.

Smoking Policy:

Smoking is forbidden in enclosed places of work in Ireland. This includes office blocks, various buildings, public houses/bars, restaurants and company vehicles (cars and vans). The ban was introduced by the Tobacco Smoking (Prohibition) Regulations 2003. The only place where smoking is permitted is in designated smoking areas. Learners are responsible for complying with smoking regulations at external training venues.

Disciplinary Action:

Where advice and persuasion fail to achieve compliance with safety and health rules, it is the policy of the Company to take disciplinary action on the matter.

ALCOHOL /SUBSTANCE MISUSE

A learner must not attend a training programme under the influence of alcohol or any illegal substance. Any learner found to be drunk, smelling of alcohol or under the influence of non-prescription drugs may be asked to leave the training room until further notice.

Disciplinary action may be taken against the learner as per the disciplinary procedures found within this handbook.
